Ladies, get tips for career in law

"Sisters-in-Law: An Uncensored Guide for Women Practicing Law in the Real World," by Lisa G. Sherman, Deborah L. Turchiano and Jill R. Schecter; Sphinx Publishing (261 pages, $16.95)

In "Sisters-in-Law," Lisa G. Sherman, Deborah L. Turchiano (both Poughkeepsie natives) and Jill R. Schecter attempt to impart some knowledge that law school just can't teach.

Told from a humorous, female point of view, the ladies share tips on interviews and finding the right firm; how to deal with co-workers — both kind and unkind ones; romance in the office; and balancing a career with motherhood.

— Orlando R. Lorenzo,
